Auburn Council Approves Appointment to BPW Board

(KLZA) The Auburn Board of Public Works once again has five members following Monday night's Council approval of Mayor Scott Kudrna's appointment of Mac Erisman to the Board. (play audio :24 seconds)

That is Mayor Scott Kudrna. The Mayor talked with us about his reasons for appointing three new members to the BPW Board of Directors. (play audio :31 seconds)

Mayor Kudrna says it is his feeling the BPW Board should take a look at ways to control costs, not just raise utility rates. (play audio :26 seconds)

The Auburn City Council conducted a public hearing Monday night on the Board of Public Works Reconciliation Statement for the Wastewater Department, which has gone 10 percent over budget. Mayor Kudrna explains the reason given. (play audio :21 seconds)

The Council also approved an agreement with the State Department of Roads on the Highway 136 reconstruction project in Auburn once it was cleared up who would cover some of the costs involved with the project. (play audio :36 seconds)
