

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=23163>

Auburn Council Approves Savings of More Than $300,000

(KLZA) The Auburn City Council has approved refinancing of bonds for the wastewater treatment plant saving more than $300,000. Mayor Scott Kudrna explains. (play audio :34 seconds)

The wastewater treatment bonds will still be paid off on the same schedule with the final bond payment due in 2029.

The Auburn Council Monday night also approved the Auburn Downtown Revitalization Committee seeking a 6-month extension for the downtown improvement projects. (play audio :38 seconds)

Another big project in Auburn is moving forward as bids have been awarded on the P Street Culvert Project. (play audio :37 seconds)

Many Signals Communications