Summer Childrens' Programs Resume this week at Falls City Library

(KTNC)--The series of summer children's programs resumes this week at the Falls City Library and Arts Center, with the first of four successive Wednesday events.

The Library will present a program titled, "Build Something Cool with Jeromie," with Jeromie Brown, from 10:30 a.m. till noon on Wednesday. The program is for elementary age children, but older kids can also come to help and learn.

The Falls City Police Department will present a program on "stranger danger," appropriate for pre-school and early elementary age children, at 5:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Linda Santo will have a fun program for kids in kindergarten thru 5th grade on eating healthy foods and exercise at 10:30 a.m. on July 30.

The final program, for elementary age children, on "The Beauty of Nature," is scheduled for August 6.

Parents, grandparents, and caregivers are also invited to attend the programs.
