

USD 115 Board Accepts Weight Room HVAC Bid

(KMZA)--The Nemaha Central Board of Education this week approved a bid for a new HVAC system for the high school weight room.

The Board accepted a bid from Eisenbarth Plumbing, of Seneca, for $17,915 plus $3,500 to tie the equipment into the existing building control system. It was among three bids received.

Bids were sought after the current HVAC unit for high school weight room went out in late December.

In other business, the Board accepted the resignation of High School Principal Patrick McKernan, effective June 7th. McKernan has been hired as the new superintendent of the Troy school district.

A teaching contract was approved for Jerald Gross as a social studies teacher at the high school. Gross began teaching on January 18th. Also a supplemental contract was approved for Mark Mayberry as assistant baseball coach.

The Board approved a lease agreement between Michael Sudbeck and Marshall-Nemaha County Educational Services Cooperative for rental of the special education office at 316 Main Street in Seneca at a cost of $600 a month, beginning February 1st through June 30th, 2016. Sudbeck recently purchased the building.

And Superintendent Darrel Kohlman will set a date for him and three board members to visit the Holton High School in March to get an overview of their FFA/VoAg program. A similar program is being considered for Nemaha Central High School.
