

Wathena residents escape injury in Friday wreck

(KAIR)--Two Doniphan County residents escaped injury in a Wyandotte County double vehicle wreck that left a Shawnee woman injured.

The Kansas Highway Patrol reports it happened Friday morning, on I-435, just south of Donahoo Road, in Kansas City, Kansas.

It was there that a car, southbound on the interstate, struck a patch of water.

The Patrol report says that caused the driver, 27-year-old Katherine Ridihalgh, of Shawnee, to lose control, with the car going into a spin, and crashing into a southbound pickup truck, driven by 25-year-old Jerad Hawkins, of Wathena.

Ridihalgh was transported to Providence Medical Center, in KCK, for the treatment of her injuries.

The Patrol reports that Hawkins, and his 27-year-old passenger, Christopher Cross, of Wathena, were not hurt.

The Patrol says everyone involved in the wreck was buckled up when it happened shortly after 7:00 Friday morning.

Many Signals Communications