District 56 hires Transportation Director

(KLZA)-- The Falls City Public School District has announced the hiring of a new Transportation Director.

Jordan Stoller of Falls City will begin transitioning into the new position beginning February 3, and will take over responsibility for the district's transportation department on August 1, when Robert Baker retires after 32 years on the job.

Stoller earned an Associates Degree in diesel Technology from Southeast Community College in 2016 and has been employed by Tri-State Truck & Tractor as a diesel technician since 2016. He graduated from Falls City High School in 2015.
