

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=11672>

Nebraska State Colleges Tuition Increase Announced

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Tuition is going up on for students at three Nebraska colleges this fall.

The Nebraska State College Board of Trustees has approved a 3.5 percent increase for students at Chadron, Peru and Wayne state colleges.

For in-state undergraduates, tuition will go up $4.75 per credit hour to $140 - or an additional $71 for a fulltime student taking 15 credit hours.

Tuition was raised 5 percent for online courses. The board also approved a rate of $50 per credit hour for dual enrollment courses, which are offered to high school juniors and seniors.

The three colleges serve about 9,000 students and offer over 200 degree, certificate and pre-professional programs.

Associated Press