

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=19385>

Atchison Commissioners Ready to Vote on Sign Code

(KAIR) -- After several months of workshops and gaining public input, Atchison Planning Commissioners have composed a final draft for a public hearing before recommendation to the City Commission an ordinance on signs.

Planning Commissioners held their final workshop Wednesday and Community Development Director Stefanie Leif says a few major changes are in the draft.

(Play Audio) RT: :25

Leif says the draft also has changes on electronic signs and the space a sign can take up.

(Audio Continues) RT: :33

The public hearing will take place at the next commissioner meeting on January 9th and Leif encourages any business owner that may be affected to attend.

In other business, Leif says Planning Commissioners also unanimously denied recommendation for an application to change zoning for property at 1612 Commercial Street from a single family to two family residential property to make a duplex.

(Audio Continues) RT: :21

Despite the denial, the measure will still move on to City Commissioners for consideration.

Many Signals Communications