An Artistic Atchison Weekend

(KAIR)--Atchison is alive with art, as the Open Air Fair and Pop Up Art Exhibit runs through the weekend.

Today, it's Pop-up body art, being held in the 500 and 600 blocks of the downtown mall, due to rain. Tomorrow, it's the Open Air Fair, and Atchison Art Association Executive Director Deborah Geiger and artist Christy Harris say that happens at the Atchison Riverfront from 10 in the morning until 5:00 tomorrow afternoon.

Demonstrations during the Open Air Fair will include an open pit glazed pottery firing, a sideshow fire performance from Lithium and Englewarp, the Treeslayer chainsaw artist and mycologist Carla Wick.
