

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=53712>

Winter Weather Advisory Eastern Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) - Eastern Nebraska could see freezing rain, sleet and snow through Monday evening.

The National Weather Service issued a winter-weather advisory Sunday for most of eastern Nebraska. Accumulations will likely be greatest in northeast Nebraska. Forecasters say precipitation is likely to be a mix of ice and snow around areas around Seward, Lincoln, and Omaha.

The advisory will continue until 6 p.m. Monday.

Associated Press