

Doniphan Co deputy appears on charges

(KNZA)--A Doniphan County Sheriff's Deputy appears in court, facing charges pertaining to his alleged mistreatment of a suspect.

Raymond Hall made his first appearance in Doniphan County District Court last week.

He is charged with mistreatment of a confined person and battery. Both are misdemeanors.

The court appearance resulted in the scheduling of arraignment for Hall on the morning of January 11, 2019.

He remains free on a $2,500 bond.

Nemaha County Attorney Brad Lippert is serving as special prosecutor in the case.

According to the Doniphan County Sheriff's Office, Hall continues to be employed by the department, but is currently on unpaid leave. He was placed on paid leave July 8, 2017, but that ended in late October, 2018.

Formal charges were filed against Hall last month, with the complaint naming James Groh as the victim in the case.

According to Doniphan County Sheriff's Office arrest documents, Groh was arrested by Hall in Wathena on June 22, 2017 for assault on a law enforcement officer and interference with a law enforcement officer.

Many Signals Communications