

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=68646>

Squirrel responsible for Falls City power outage

(KLZA)-- A majority of Falls City went several hours without electricity Thursday evening.

City utility crews eventually determined a squirrel got into a substation at the power plant on south Crook Street causing damage to several electrical circuits.

Power was restored to most customers between 9 and 10:00 p.m., but later Thursday city crews had to cut electrical service to repair the last circuit.

Many Signals Communications