

Local teen sentenced on child sex charge

(KNZA)--A rural Hiawatha teenager, convicted on a child sex-related charge involving a 13-year-old, has been placed on probation.

19-year-old Jason Porter was sentenced Monday in Brown County District Court to 8-months in prison on a felony count of unlawful voluntary sexual relations. The sentence was then suspended and he was placed on 18-months supervised probation.

Porter pleaded no contest to the amended charge in December. He had original been charged with aggravated indecent liberties with a child.

Porter was arrested last May following an investigation by the Hiawatha Police Department.

Many Signals Communications