

Jail altercation leads to arrest

(KAIR)--An inmate at the Atchison County Jail is facing additional charges following what authorities say was an altercation with jail staff.

According to a release from Atchison County Sheriff Jack Laurie, 35-year-old Katie Thomas was arrested Friday evening on charges of battery, criminal damage to property, and interference with law enforcement.

Laurie said no injuries resulted from the altercation.

Thomas was already jailed following a December arrest by Atchison Police for aggravated battery.

The arrest followed Thomas allegedly striking another woman in the face with what police called a heavy drinking glass.
