

Frontier Bank names next President

(KLZA)-- Frontier Bank has announced that, as of January 1, Trent Scheitel will succeed Marc Morehead as President of its Falls City location. Morehead will retire from day to day work December 31, but will remain with the bank in a part-time consulting role as he intends to travel and enjoy time with family after 28 years with Richardson County Bank & Trust/Frontier Bank.

Scheitel is currently Vice President and has been with Frontier Bank since 2017. The Falls City native and Nebraska Wesleyan graduate started his career as a CPA for KPMG, LLP in Omaha before moving to Falls City.

He currently is on the Board of Directors for Community Medical Center, Falls City Educational Foundation and the Community Redevelopment Authority.

Trent and his wife, Samantha, reside in Falls City with their son, Peter.

Also with the New Year, Bill Niedfeldt will bring nearly 34 years of banking experience to the Falls City location. Bill is excited to continue to work with his existing customer base and to meet and work with new customers. Niedfeldt has served on many civic organizations including the Board of Directors for Community Medical Center, the Richardson County Visitors' Committee and the Nemaha NRD Board.

Many Signals Communications