Hungary's President headed to Atchison

(KAIR)--The President of Hungary is coming to Atchison.

That word is delivered in a media alert issued Tuesday by Atchison's Benedictine College.

According to the release, President Katalin Novak will meet privately with students of the college later this month, providing an address and then taking student questions.

The release notes that Novak is both the first female president of Hungary and the youngest, at the age of 45, to hold the office.

Installed into the Presidency in May, Novak will serve a 5-year-term.

No public meeting is planned.
