

<http://www.MSCNews.net/news/index.cfm?nk=77092>

Lansing inmate pronounced dead Saturday

(KAIR)--A Lansing Correctional Facility inmate is dead, with the cause of death pending the results of an independent autopsy.

That's according to a release from the Kansas Department of Corrections, which says 28-year-old Kaydin Varland-Hazelton died Saturday, and was pronounced dead by local hospital staff.

The investigation into the death, conducted jointly by KDOC and the Kansas Bureau of Investigation, is ongoing.

Varland-Hazelton, was serving an 84-month sentence for several convictions of drug possessions and one count of battery in Sedgwick County.

Many Signals Communications